NOTE—Contn. Sheet.

Subs. The Precedent put up by the C.B. is that of Mr. A.V. Ramanathan Under Secretary to Govt. getting a charge allowance of Rs 80/- p.m for being in charge of the duties of the Revenue Secretary on leave for 2 months in 1922 (Flag S.)

A recent instance is that of Mr. A.N. Raghavachar getting an allowance of Rs 100/- p.m for being in charge of the duties of the Financial Secretary when Mr. B. Srinivasa Iyengar was on leave for 1 month and 10 days in 1930.

One difference between these two cases and that under disposal is that in the two instances there have been Govt. orders appointing the Officers to be in charge of the ~~duties~~ duties of the higher post and there has not been any such order in the case of Mr. M. Shamanna. This difference should not perhaps be a reason for not giving him any allowance. Whether his responsibilities and work were not greater during the period should perhaps be the ~~test~~ guide in giving any allowance in such cases.

It may be noted that when Mr. B. Srinivasa Iyengar went on leave for 3 weeks in the first instance the Dewan's orders were that it was a short period and that the Under Secretary might look after the work (of the Financial Secretary) But yet an Office Memorandum appointing ~~the~~ the # Under Secretary to be in charge of the duties of the Financial Secretary was issued (Fl. 11) Though the orders are similar in the present case no order sanctioning appointing him as such seems to have been passed.

Another ~~instance~~ difference between the precedents quoted above and that of Mr. Shamanna is that the period of arrangement for work in the latter case falls short of a month viz 16 days. But considering the additional duties and responsibilities assumed by the Officer the Shortness of the period should not perhaps come in the way of giving him an allowance.

There was very heavy work during the period and he deserves some allowance for the same. He may be regarded as having been in charge & given an allowance of Rs 100 p.m. as was given to Mr Rajaratnam in 1930

Dewan (Mr Chetty) 30/5-

It may be pointed out that the arrangement suggested in adopting the work of the Asst Secy during the absence on leave of the Asst Secy should not be taken to mean that the Asst Secy will be in charge of the work in the absence of the Chief Secy in an important Country
